From the registration page you are presented with four different fields. One is to input your desired username, email address, password and confirm password. If the user enters a username which is already taken then you won't be able to register an account with that username. Additionally, if the password doesn't meet the password requirements then the user will need to make it more secure.

3 Login Page

The screenshot shows a web page with a light gray header. On the left, it says "Sustain and Gain" followed by "Leagues" with a small right-pointing arrow. On the right, there are links for "Login" and "Register". Below the header, the word "Login" is displayed in a bold, black font. Underneath, a line of text reads "Don't have an account yet? Register". There are two input fields: the first is labeled "Username" and contains the text "James"; the second is labeled "Password" and contains a series of dots. A blue button with the word "Login" in white text is positioned below the password field.

When creating a new league you can specify the following:

- Name
- Description
- Visibility
- Invite Only

If the League isn't specified as invite only then people will just be able to join without any authentication by the league admin
